Wild Ones is Filled with Gratitude and Appreciation because of Member Support

A heartfelt “Thank You” goes out to all of our Wild Ones members, chapters, partners, business associates, and especially our volunteers across the country. Wild Ones appreciates all that you do to educate others and advocate for native landscaping.

We have surpassed President Tim Lewis’ 4000 member goal this year. We remain committed to our mission and plan to continue growing and spreading the word about how important native plants are to the well-being of each and every one of us and to the Earth we live on. If every member could recruit one new member this coming year, we would be well on our way to making many more great things happen. Watch for new activities and programs in 2016.

Some of the successful things Wild Ones continues to do are: develop and foster relationships with our partners; provide members and chapters with information and funding to expand at a local level; award grants for educational opportunities through the Seeds for Education (SFE) program; and collaborate with other like-minded agencies and programs to provide brochures, handouts and presentations promoting native landscaping, pollinators and Wild for Monarchs.

We couldn’t do any of these things without your help. Thank you for supporting Wild Ones and being an advocate in your community. So much progress happens at the local level and I am proud to say it’s you, our members that make Wild Ones great.

Others who have contributed to our success are former executive director, Donna VanBuecken and former Journal editor, Maryann Whitman. Both have recently retired. Donna led this organization for the past 17 years and paved the way for all of us to follow. Our gratitude goes out to her for her dedication, leadership and knowledge. The Journal’s success is largely attributed to the professional efforts of our editor of over 11 years, Maryann Whitman. Maryann spent hours gathering articles and photos to provide our members with information pertinent to sustaining local native habitats. Her commitment to native landscaping and to our members made each Journal something special that everyone looked forward to. Thank you both so much for your contributions and your expertise.

Volunteers are special people. Wild Ones volunteers are next to none. Our volunteers continue to amaze me with their dedication and service. Every day someone asks me what can I do, how can I help Wild Ones, how can I impact our environment, or what needs to be done next. Thank you volunteers! You all make Wild Ones an awesome place to be.

Two more groups of people I need to send a shout out to who don’t get much recognition are our national staff and our Board of Directors. Our staff composed of Jamie Fuerst, Kim Walbrun and Jessie Cain work tirelessly to make everything run smoothly for our members and chapters. If you need help with something, feel free to contact them. And last but not least our Board of Directors also deserve a big hand. They are always working behind the scenes taking care of business and keeping things on track. Thank you all for your time and commitment to Wild Ones.

Gail Gerhardt, Executive Director

We are pleased again to be able to present Dave Edwards as our Volunteer of the Year. Since we moved in 7 years ago, Dave has been a steadfast volunteer at the WILD Center helping with any and all chores that needed to be done.

We have been fortunate this past year to have many volunteers from all over work with us. We want to thank these volunteers for spending some of their free time at the WILD Center helping us fight buckthorn, restore the site and keep the trails open. It goes without saying that the progress we've made to date in the development of the Center would not be so far along without everyone's valuable assistance.

Thank you.

The Wild Ones Legacy Program
To fund its important programs, Wild Ones depends heavily on private contributions from caring individuals. Donors are discovering the benefits of supporting charities through their estate plans. Through the Wild Ones Legacy Program, we will work with you and your estate-planning professionals to help you help Wild Ones, after you are gone, to continue to get its message across and to expand the movement. With your assistance, we will continue to spread the word about how important native plants are to our very existence and to the existence of the Earth as a living planet.

These donations (often called planned gifts) can offer many advantages:
- Reduce estate taxes.
- Provide a life-income stream.
- Allow you to make a much larger gift than you thought possible.
- Receive a current income-tax deduction.
- Reduce or avoid capital gains tax.
- Support Wild Ones mission and work.

If you have not yet included the Wild Ones in your estate plans, the following are some of the most popular methods to accomplish that. If you have questions or would like more information, please contact National Counsel, Bret Rappaport, at 312-845-5116 or b.rappaport@comcast.net, or the Wild Ones National Office at 877-394-9453 or execdirector@wildones.org.

Wills
One of the simplest and most common ways to remember Wild Ones and help us carry on our mission is to leave a bequest through your will.

The following is suggested language to use in wills and a variety of other estate planning tools – feel free to print this and take it to your attorney when you are discussing your estate plans.

When making a gift to the Wild Ones Natural Landscapers, Ltd., use this language:

“I give and bequeath the sum of $ ___ (or ______ percent of my estate) to the Wild Ones Natural Landscapers Ltd., to be used for its general purposes.”

You may also give a particular asset (“my shares of XYZ stock…” or a portion of the residue of your estate after other bequests have been paid (“50 percent of the rest, residue and remainder of my estate…”).

Trusts
There are many different types of trusts that can serve a variety of purposes. It would be impossible to give even a brief explanation of the many types of trusts in this information. The advice of an attorney and qualified financial planner is necessary to assess your situation and decide which trust might best serve your goals. Please know, however, that it is easy to include a gift to Wild Ones through your trust by using the language set forth above.

Also, there are trusts (called Charitable Remainder Trusts) that can provide you or your loved ones with a life-income stream while also providing a gift to support the programs of the Wild Ones. Please check with your financial advisor to determine what is best for your situation.

Life insurance
Life insurance can be a valuable tool in estate planning. By naming beneficiaries on policies, the proceeds can be paid directly to that person or organization without having to go through probate. Life insurance also offers a wonderful way to make a charitable gift. It is possible to make gifts with “paid-up” policies, policies with premiums still due, policies where you can retain the right to a policy’s cash value, or by assigning the dividends in a participating policy. Check with your insurance agent to see which option would be best for you.

Pay on death or transfer on death accounts
This estate planning tool can be an effective way to quickly transfer assets – such as bank accounts – to a beneficiary, because it avoids that asset going through the probate process. It also allows you to change the beneficiary at any time.

When establishing the account, tell your banking representative that you wish it to be a “Pay on Death” account. They will ask you for the name of the person or charitable organization you wish to receive the property upon your death.

Gifts of securities
While a gift of securities is not strictly an estate-planning tool, there are significant advantages to this type of donation that have allowed many donors to make gifts that will live on after they are gone.

If you have owned stock for at least one year that has increased in value, you can donate that stock to a charitable organization without having to pay capital-gains tax on the increase. Additionally, there is an income-tax charitable deduction equal to the full current market value of the securities (up to 30 percent of the donor’s adjusted gross income). Using appreciated stock to fund a gift annuity offers added tax benefits to that gift.

Note: In order to receive the most favorable tax treatment, you must donate the securities to the Wild Ones – you cannot sell the stock and donate the proceeds. If you would like more information on how to make this transfer, please contact the Wild Ones National Office.

Retirement plan assets
With the increase in the variety of retirement plan assets that people own, an important aspect of your estate planning should be making sure that the money invested in these accounts goes to the people or organizations you wish to receive them.

Examples of these different retirement plans include IRAs, pension plans, Keogh, and 401(K) accounts. If you are contemplating a charitable gift in your estate plans, using assets such as those in retirement plans can maximize your donation while allowing other property that is not subject to some taxes to be passed to your beneficiaries. Consult your financial advisor to see what is best for your particular estate plan.
